Thinking processes can be used to some extent by all individuals at any age.

- Observing
- Communicating
- Comparing
- Organizing
- Relating
- Interpreting
- Applying

- Sensory comparing, relationships, relative position
- Oral, written, pictorial, numerical, quantitative, temperature
- Ordering: serializing, sequencing, categorizing, grouping, classifying
- Cause and effect relationships, controlled experimentation
- Theorizing data, formalizing models
- Using knowledge to solve complex prop.

...